"Chat GPT - An opportunity or a threat to professionals?"

Dear Members,

Artificial Intelligence (AI) has already revolutionized most industries by taking up jobs that could only be performed by skilled and intelligent humans. The next move of AI is to enter the professional services domain like law, medicine, education, where it is all set to solve problems humanity faces. It looks like, we shall soon be blessed by technology!

Chat Generative Pre-Trained Transformer or Chat GPT as it is commonly known as has already started creating waves for its ability to give detailed responses and articulate answers across many domains of knowledge. Its use is banned in some universities while it is celebrated in certain others. Resultantly, it has become much more controversial, further increasing its popularity.

But what exactly is Chat GPT? Is it born to help professionals like teachers, lawyers, auditors, doctors, and the likes of them or threaten their very existence? Is it all good for the humanity or does it have a darker side as well? These are just a few questions that need to be answered by a wise, competent, and intelligent human being; Thank God, a 'human being'!

The Tech-I committee brings a unique opportunity to get first-hand and insightful information on Chat GPT from Vatsal Kanakiya. He is a B.Tech in Computer Engineering and has topped this credential with multiple certifications in Neural Networks and Deep Learning (components of AI). He is the principal and the Chief Technology Officer at 100X.VC a SEBI registered CAT I AIF.

In this unique program, the faculty shall share his insights on Chat GPT and its implications on professionals. So, if you are concerned (and you should be!) about how Chat GPT shall impact you and your professional practice, you are welcome!
