About Miyawaki Forest:

The Miyawaki method is a Japanese-style rapid afforestation technique used in city greening efforts. It involves planting diverse native species close together, creating a dense, sustainable forest which will increase carbon sequestration, enhance biodiversity, and help combat climate change.

BMC is to develop 14 new urban forests using the Miyawaki technique, across Mumbai before Diwali this year. Let us join together to support this Go Green campaign by creating our small BCAS Miyawaki Forest in the heart of Mumbai, to make our city greener.

This project will be carried out in association with "Keshav Shrushti" who have already created more than 40 Miyawaki Forests across different urban areas.
