Dear Members,

Preparing an Annual Report is an art, but effectively Reading and Analysing it requires a systematic and scientific approach. Understanding how to read the financials; correlate the details provided in the Notes to Accounts and Directors' Report is essential for drawing accurate conclusions or making informed decisions. A meaningful analysis of Annual Report is crucial for understanding a Company's factual health and performance and eventually arriving at an appropriate conclusion or decision.

Finance, Corporate & Allied Laws Committee Study Circle of BCAS has organised a session on such a basic but extremely vital topic, the details of which are given below:
