Indirect Tax Laws Study Circle

Dear Members,

Greetings!!

Search and seizure under GST represent one of the most potent enforcement tools available to the tax authorities, often carrying significant legal and business implications for taxpayers. The exercise of these powers is governed by a detailed statutory framework, balanced by important procedural safeguards and judicially evolved principles. A clear understanding of the scope, limits and practical handling of such proceedings is essential for professionals advising and representing taxpayers. This session aims to provide a focused perspective on navigating these critical situations with clarity and strategy.
